Dear Students, Parents & Carers

Re: Year 13 A-level Revision

It has come to my attention that a number of Year 13 students have been absent for whole days or parts of days since the return from the Easter break, with many citing independent revision as their reason. Over the course of the final weeks of school, essential revision, learning, and exam preparation has been put in place to ensure students are fully prepared and have the very best chance of success in their A-level examinations. Outside of lesson time, students have a substantial amount of non-contact time available to them in which to complete independent revision tasks. Our Year 13 teachers have made significant plans for these final lessons and those students who do not attend will be at a considerable disadvantage.

I expect all students to attend every lesson over these closing stages of their Ashmole career and will investigate and challenge those who choose to truant any further. For those who report in ill next Thursday 9th May, we will not expect their attendance at the Sixth Form Dinner later that evening.

Year 13 have been an exemplary year group to date, and I am confident that with one final push between now and the final day of term, we have the potential for an outstanding set of results for all.

I thank you in advance for your support.

Yours faithfully
