Dear Parent/Carer

Re: Visit for Year 12 and 13 Drama Students – Death of England: Closing Time

The Drama Department are planning a visit to see Death of England: Closing Time for all our A-Level students on the 12th October at the Dorfman Theatre (National Theatre, South Bank, London SE1 9PX).

The visit is non-compulsory but is an excellent opportunity for students to see the work of Clint Dyer & Roy Williams and it will provide an additional performance that pupils will be able to write about for their exam. Please visit the following link for more information about the play:

<https://www.nationaltheatre.org.uk/productions/death-of-england-closing-time/>.

Although a member of school staff will be present, students will be expected to make their own way to and from the theatre. The nearest tube station is Waterloo on the Northern or Bakerloo Line. From Southgate, the journey to the theatre is approximately 1 hour. The performance begins at 8:00pm. Students are expected to arrive at the theatre by 7:30pm to collect their tickets from a member of staff, it is imperative they are punctual as latecomers will not be accepted into the theatre. The duration of the performance is approximately 2 hours.

Students will need to purchase their tickets on ParentPay, tickets cost £25 each.

Please note that this is an unaccompanied visit. Students are responsible for their own behaviour and wellbeing as well as their travel to and from the theatre. Please use the link below to confirm your consent for this:
