Launch of Our New Student Voice Committees

This year, we have streamlined our Student Voice structure to strengthen student participation and improve our provision for Student Voice at Ashmole. We are excited to launch four key committees: Education, Engagement, Environment, and Experience.

Each form group will elect four committee representatives, one for each committee, giving students a direct opportunity to shape and influence school life. We know that meaningful student voice is vital in fostering a strong sense of belonging and brings many benefits, including:

- Promoting civic engagement and an understanding of democracy
- Improving teaching and learning
- Building leadership and communication skills
- Creating a more inclusive school culture

Students can apply to become committee members, but as part of Ashmole's core offer, every student will participate in a sub-committee during form time. This ensures that all voices are heard and that every student can contribute their own ideas and feedback.

We look forward to seeing the impact of these committees throughout the year and will share updates on the proposals, discussions and actions over the course of the year.

Art Exhibition

At the end of the last school year, the Art Department held its annual Art Exhibition. This exciting event showcased the work of all Year 11 and 13 students, featuring a wide range of media and processes, including sculpture, installation, painting, printmaking, and textiles.

The event was well attended, and guests enjoyed canapés and refreshments. A wonderful evening was enjoyed by all.

Congratulations to the Art graduates of 2026!

INTERNATIONAL
TRANSLATION
DAY

Happy International Translation Day

On 30th September, the world celebrates International Translation Day and the power of being understood. It is an opportunity to recognise and celebrate the many languages spoken within our school community and the important role language plays in helping us connect, learn and feel that we belong.

There are several events taking place in London this month to celebrate ITD.

On Tuesday 22nd September, English PEN is partnering with The London Library for an interactive 'Editorial Slam' where two literary editors will attempt to live-edit the same passage! As well as hosting an in-person event at Brixton Library on the 30th September where you can expect to see live conversations between literary translators, and figures from publishing, bookselling and influencers. Enjoy!

Year 11 Chemistry

In our Year 11 Chemistry lessons, we have been learning about organic chemistry and how molecular size affects viscosity. Students investigated viscosity by measuring the time taken for different oils to flow through a funnel. Students were really engaged and enjoyed linking their practical observations to the theory they had learnt in class.

Well done, Year 11!

Dr Terziu

London Youth Games

A huge well done to Louis, who proudly represented Enfield at the London Youth Games and attended the awards ceremony. His team secured a fantastic bronze medal!

We are all so proud of your achievement here at Ashmole, Louis!

MedSoc

Anyone keeping up with the school's Instagram page will be aware we had tremendous success last academic year. One of the students that gained her place for Medicine at Imperial, Sana, kindly came by to give our Year 13 applicants a UCAS guidance session. She answered their questions about their UCAT scores, where to apply, the fifth choice, personal statements, and more! We're so grateful to Sana for taking the time to come back and support our Medics before her next big adventure.

We are off to a flying start, as we also had our first Year 12 MedSoc session last week. A record 31 students attended; listening keenly to what MedSoc can do for them, and what they need to do to make the strongest possible application. Anyone thinking of applying to Medicine, Dentistry, Veterinary Medicine or an Allied Health career, please come along on Wednesdays at 1.30pm to HU6. Mrs D Shah
